As a CPA, Speaker, Author and ICF Certified Coach I’m committed to helping women break free from financial dependency and overwhelm and empowering them to move past their money story, money blocks and to learn powerful money strategies.

I recently presented my first TEDx talk on Financial Dependency. I’ve also given webinars, workshops, speeches and presentations for national and international companies and organizations including Toastmasters International, Sinclair Community College, Mary Kay Cosmetics, International Coach Federation, Unity Church and Ambucs. In addition, I’ve participated in several online summits, interviews and workshops.

With over 35 years of professional experience as a CPA I’ve worked with individuals and companies ranging in size from small privately owned businesses to Fortune 500 companies in various industries.

Currently I’m writing my first book “Financial Dependency ~The Invisible Weapon”
